WOMAN'S APOSTLE.

Prof. Charles Zuebein addressed the Federation of Women's Clubs at Chicago last Tuesday, and here are some of his expressions:

Home making begins by keeping the streets clean. Make government so simple that any college professor can understand it.

You women will never have sex equality while men pay women's bills. It can't be done. It never has been done.

If you can't put little beauty spots in your community (parks and playgrounds, he meant) you might as well be occupied in putting beauty spots on your faces. Until nobody is taken from school at 18 and until everybody is put to work at 18-then, and not till then, shall we have a sound social system. The entrance of women in our universities has set a pace that makes it impossible for the weaker sex to keep up.

Some of these ideas are pretty good, the first and last two, for instance. The fourth, too, is not bad; but the third is rather radical for if men are not permitted to pay women's bills what will become of the men? This little duty is about the only thing that keeps them wholesome now. We are reminded here of a little poem:

Here's to the Garden of Eden, Which Adam was always a'weeden, Till one day by mistake,

Eve was bit by a snake, Which on the ripe pippins was feeden. Then an idea seemed to possess her, Of somthing sufficient to dress her, And ever since then

It has been up to us men, To pay for her dresses, God bless her.

One can easily see how happily the "God bless her" adorns the argument. There would never have been such a benignant expression if men did not pay the bills. The trouble with the world is. that there is not enough of them pay-too many sneaking out of the happy job .- Ohio State Jour-

BUT, EGGS IS EGGS.

In Iowa the person who sells bad eggs is violating the law and is subject to punishment. And why it is to sell bad meat, or spoiled goods of any kind? Is it honest to mix eggs of doubtful quality with Eleanor Duncan Wood, of Maysville, those sent to market and does it pay? A few bad eggs add but little to the number, but detract large. ly from the quality and price. Eggs found in a new nest, or that are of uncertain age, should be candled or used at home. Fertile eggs will keep but a short time, but infertile eggs will keep indefinitely under proper conditions.

HIS BEST.

July Ladies Home Journal. The day had been one long struggle

Such as all teachers know, When the hands and feet are restle And the childish minds so slow; And my head ached with the burden And my lips forgot their smile, When slowly the littlest scholar Came plodding down the aisle.

He was inked from his curls to his sho

The children giggled to see; But his hands grasped a grimy pape And lifted it up to me; His brow was damp with effort And he spoke with a hearty zest: Look at my copy, Teacher;

Pothooks, and worse than pothooks; Scratches and blots galore! A gost of mocking laughter

I tell you, I tried my best."

Rippled from desk to door; He turned to them wide-eyed, wounded "Why do they laugh-the rest? It's the truth I'm tellin' you, Teacher I tried just my level best."

eurbed my tongue and my temper; Dame Life keeps a cynic's school, Where daly the goal is honored, Where only the mighty rule.

My boy should not learn so early: I pressed him close to my heart: Thank you, Dear, for the copy; I'm sure that you did your part."

And I know when the great All Teacher Gathers His children in,

Most of us sick with longing For the joys that might have been, How warmly His arms will fold us, How close we will creep to His breast If, spite of our sorry records, We have really done our best.

HARD HIT BY TARIFF

Claffin Company Lost $1,000,000 Through New Law.

New York,-Changes in the tariff hi he H. B. Ciaflin company hard, its loss n values on the goods on its shelves he day the tariff became effective be ng estimated in textile circles as in excess of $1,000,000. Intrinsically, the goods were as valuable as ever, commercially, they were worth only what it would cost to replace them. The tariff also hit the house through a felling on the part of the consumrag public that, of drygoods would be radically cut. This resulted in a reduction of sales, the public holding off for the big cuts they imagined would come, but which have not materialized. The retail stores controlled by the Claflin company felt this immediately, as did the parent house, through the inability of these concerns to meet their obligations. The youse also had thousands of accounts of Jadependent merchants, who were likewise affected, collections becoming somewhat difficult and reorders not s plentiful as would naturally be ex-

CONTROL LEAF HOPPER

By Tobacco Spray-Sticky Shields Car Be Used To Capture Winged Insects and Vineyard Quickly Relieved of Menace.

Washington, D. C .- The insect know as the leaf-hopper that has seriously menaced the vineyard of Ohio and Michigan may be controlled by the use of a tobacco spray, according to the scientists of the Department of Agriculture. The time for the application of this spray is during the last few days in June or very early la July.

Successful control of the insect depends on thoroughly wetting all parts of the under side of the infested leaves with the spray liquid. The following two formulas have been used with excellent results:

1. Tobacco extract containing 2.70 per cent, nicotine sulphate, diluted at the ratio of 1 part to 150 parts of water, 2. Tobacco extract containing 40 per ent, nicotine sulphate, diluted at the ratio of I part to 1,500 parts of water. The killing quality of the tobacco extract is apparently just as effective when added at the same dilution to the Bordeaux mixture and arsenate of lead spray liquids, which are used to control fungus diseases and chewlag enemies of the grapevine, as when used with clear water. No injury results from combining these spray mixtures, namely, tobacco extract, Bordeaux mixture, and arsenate of lead. However, the tobacco extract should not be mixed with spray mixtures containing arsenicals in the form of Paris green or arsenate of lime, for serious injury to the foliage is likely to occur as a
